

About the Contributors

Mark Aronson

Mark Aronson is an Emeritus Professor at the UNSW Law School, and a consultant solicitor to Cornwalls Lawyers in Sydney. His research has spanned a number of areas, including administrative law and government tort liability.

Judith Bannister

Dr Judith Bannister is an Associate Professor and Associate Dean (Learning & Teaching) at the Adelaide Law School, University of Adelaide. She is the Deputy Director of the Public Law & Policy and Research Unit at Adelaide Law School.

John Basten

Justice Basten is currently serving on the NSW Court of Appeal, Supreme Court of New South Wales. He studied law at Adelaide and Oxford Universities, taught for a year at the University of Chicago and for some seven years at the University of New South Wales. Prior to his current appointment he was a Queen's Counsel practising in Sydney. He has also been a part-time Commissioner of the New South Wales Law Reform Commission, a part-time Hearing Commissioner at the Human Rights and Equal Opportunity Commission (Cth), and an Acting Commissioner of the NSW Independent Commission Against Corruption.

Janina Boughey

Janina is a Senior Lecturer in the UNSW Law School, and Director of the Gilbert + Tobin Centre's Administrative Law and Justice Project. Janina's recent research focuses on the interaction between human rights and judicial review of administrative action, comparative administrative law, statutory interpretation, and the nature and limits of the constitutional powers of the judiciary and legislature to hold the executive to account.

Stephen Gageler

Justice Stephen John Gageler was appointed to the High Court in October 2012. At the time of his appointment he was Solicitor-General of Australia. He is a graduate of the Australian National University and has post-graduate qualifications from Harvard University. He was admitted as a barrister of the Supreme Court of New South Wales in 1989 and was appointed Senior Counsel in 2000.

John Griffiths

Justice John Griffiths has been a Justice of the Federal Court since April 2012. Prior to his appointment, he practised as a barrister for 17 years. He was made a Silk in 2001. He is one of three national coordinating Judges in the Federal Court's national practice area involving constitutional law, administrative law and human rights.

Matthew Groves

Dr Matthew Groves is a Professor in the Deakin Law School, Deakin University. He researches in public law, with a focus on judicial review, fairness and human rights.

Matthew is also a fellow of the Australian Academy of Law and, with Greg Weeks, is General Editor of the Australian Journal of Administrative Law.

Graeme Hill

Graeme Hill is a Barrister at the Victorian Bar, practising in constitutional and administrative law. Before coming to the Bar, he worked for the Commonwealth Attorney-General's Department, principally in constitutional litigation, and was an associate to the Honourable Ken Hayne. He was taught by Robin and John, and worked as Robin's research assistant for a number of years.

Dennis Pearce

Emeritus Professor Dennis Pearce is a leading authority on statutory interpretation and the co-author (with R S Geddes) of Statutory Interpretation Australia, one of the most cited texts on Australian law. Dennis provides legal advice to government on a regular basis through the law firm HWL Ebsworth to which he is a consultant. He has also conducted many reviews on behalf of the Commonwealth, New South Wales and Australian Capital Territory governments.

Linda Pearson

Linda Pearson is a Principal Member of the NSW Civil and Administrative Tribunal, in the Administrative & Equal Opportunity and Occupational Divisions. She is an Adjunct Professor, Faculty of Law, University of New South Wales. She has worked as a member of a number of Commonwealth and State Tribunals, and as a Commissioner of the Land and Environment Court of New South Wales.

Janine Pritchard

Justice Janine Pritchard was appointed to the Supreme Court of Western Australia on 11 June 2010 and appointed as a judge of the Court of Appeal on 13 September 2018. Her Honour had previously served as Deputy President of the State Administrative Tribunal after her appointment to the District Court of Western Australia in June 2009. In 1991 Justice Pritchard joined the then Western Australian Crown Solicitor's Office (now the State Solicitor's Office) and worked in that office until her appointment to the bench.

Anita Stuhmcke

Dr Anita Stuhmcke is a Professor in the Faculty of Law at the University of Technology, Sydney. Anita has published extensively in the area of law and change with particular emphasis upon regulatory change pertaining to private and public ombudsman and developments in reproductive technologies.

Greg Weeks

Greg Weeks is an Associate Professor in the ANU College of Law at the Australian National University. He teaches administrative law and torts. Greg's research interests are primarily related to judicial review, state liability and remedies against public authorities. With Matthew Groves, Greg is the General Editor of the Australian Journal of Administrative Law.